Foreign Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune THE CAPITOL AND VATICAN. Rome, April 28, 1843. You may be surprised to find these two remarkable objects put in one letter, but I am going into no description of galleries. I wish to mention two or three things only in each. To-day I went to the Capitol, and after having traversed the length of the Corso I came to a noble flight of steps that brought me to the top of the Capitoline hill. The buildings on it were designed by Michael Angelo. They stand in the form of a parallelogram, with the main flight of steps at one end. At the bottom of the steps is the old Roman mile-stone that marked the first mile of the Appian way. At the top are two statues of Castor and Poliux standing beside their horses.—
In the centre of the parallellogram stands the bronze equestrian statue of Marcus Aurelius, the only one that has been handed down from antiquity. It is considered the finest equestrian the finest equestrian the considered the finest equestrian of the parallellogram stands the bronze exception of the parallellogram stands the bronze equestrian statue of Marcus Aurelius, the only one that has been handed down from antiquity. At the top are two statues of statue in existence. It was once covered with what MEDICINE CAN COMPARE WITH mild and spots of the gilding still remain. The Primer's INESTIMABLE PILLS, AND enthusiastic love of Michael Angelo for it is well known. When it stood in front of the Luteran. it was an important object amid the festivities that celebrated Rienzi's elevation to the rank of Tribune. Amid the rejoicings of that memorable day, wine was made to run out of one nostril and water out of the other. The building at the farther end is the "PALACE OF THE SENATORS." In the two side palaces are busts, statues, paintings, &c .- many of the deepest interest. Among others, the bronze wolf-" the thunder-stricken nurse of Rome"-about which so much has been written and so much controversy expended in vain. From all that can be gathered, it is doubtless the one to which Cicero more than once alluded. That wolf was once struck with lightning in the Capitol, and one leg of this has evidently been partly melted away in a similar manner .--Said Cicero, in one of his memorable attacks on Cataline, "Tactus est ille etiam qui hanc urbem condidit Romulus quem inauratum in Capotolio parvum atque lactantem, uberibus lupinis inhiantem fuisse meministis." This, too, one of the objects of deepest reverence, had the Gods smitten, as an evidence of their anger. In the palace is the famous "dying gladiator." This is one of those few statues I was not disappointed in. As I looked upon that manly dving form, and caught the mingled expression of pain and sorrow as the "big drops" ooze from the fountain of life!

I thought of Byron as I stood beside it, and of ever the arena to his victor, you know

"He heard it but he heeded not—his eyes Were with his heart, and that was far away;
He recked not of the life he lost nor prize, But where his rude hut by the Danube lay.

Butchered to make a Roman holiday—All this rushed with his blood."

me but half a world behind.

There were his young barbarians all at play. There was their Dacian mother—he their love, little child with one foot raised to press down the tered more completely by fear than a strong-minded man ever can be. There seems no resistance left in the man, and you feel that such a character never could die decently. While I admired the work, I could not love the group. On the gladiator's face such utter terror never could be written. The terrific sights that could write such fear on his features do not exist. I will not attempt to take you through the Vatican. This first time I roamed through it without guide, book or question. The Apollo Belvidere and Laocoon I could not mistake, neither did I wish any one to tell me when I came to the Transfiguration. And yet I went away vexed and irritated. My utter inability to see half as it ought to be seen, prevented my enjoying any thing. Again and again I strolled throug : its immense halls,

I can only say it is a forest o Istatuary, and ought to be divided among the wor ld. But what shall I say of the Vatican? How can I describeit? I cannot-I can only say it is more than 1.000 feet long, and nearly 800 wide—that it contains eight 000 printed volumes, and 23,580 manuscripts.

GRAND MANICHORD PIANO FORTES— From the celebrated manufactory of RUSSELL HALL LETT, of Boston, (formerly Brown & Hallett.) for sale by the authorized agent at Atwill's Music Repository, 201 Broad on his noble face, I could not refrain from tears. I am vered at the discussions of antiquarians fancy piece, or a slave, or a Gallic herald, or a dying gladiator. There he lies dying—dying from a wound a fee has given him—dying too innocent. His whole expression tells of a man who fought from necessity, not will. There is no anger in it, but the reverse; none of the fierce passions that kindle in the human face when fee meets fee. The whole countenance is beyond expression mournful. The eve utters his despair. expression mournful. The eve utters his despair.

A MERICAN PRODUCTIONS PROMOTE HEALTH.—It is strange that many should ransack the wide world for antidotes to disease when the kind AUTHOR OF NATURE has familished in every clime the best prevent-thought I must die of a galloping Consumption.

At this time, when apparently my life was drawing near its close. I heard of Dr. Wistaris Belsom of Whid Cherry, and got a hottle, which relieved me immediately, and by the use of only three bottles of this medicine all my jeans were removed; my cough and spitting of blood and corruption entirely stopped and in a few weeks my health was so far restored as to enable me to work at my trade, (that of a carpenter,) and us to the time I have enjoyed good health.

SCHENCE'S TULNION IC SYRUP — The subscriber hereby certifies that in the month of May last he was taken with a chill, which was succeeded by both brothing fever, headache, loss of appetite, constipation of the borbels, pain in my side and chies, troublesome cough, expectorated macra, stepaked with blood, oppression in the chest, and some difficulty of breathing. I took some purgative medicine, but my fever, continued; and after a few days my family physician was called in, who pronounged my case to be Inflammation of the Lungs. He gave me some medicine and supplied a bister to my side, and attended me for several days. On the 15th of May, I commenced using Schenck's Fulnamie Syrup, after having been severely ill for five days. At that time I had a bad cough, which was tight, and the expectoration, which was not very copious, consisted of a thin white mucus—my appetite was suspended—I felt tightness and oppression across my broat, pain in two side, headache, and, and upon extense myself-lad considerable inward fever, which was manifested by the berning of the paling of my hands, slight threat, and a cancel at the say feeling thoughout my system. I became any weak and feeble, and much reduced in fiesh. After I had used the Syrup a week or ten days, it appeared to ripen sity disease, and I expectorated a yellowish looking substance, resembling mater; and I would at times bring it up by the monthial. When this occurred I felt relieved—the pain subsided, and my ineathing became natural. I soon began to improve and continued to expectrate feely, except when I had a slow ferry when it would be rather tighty but when it subsided it would be loose again. About the ITh of June I was attacked with the Influenza, which held me severely but after a few days I again recruited. I took no other medicine but the Syrup grad my incashing became natural. I soon began to many each of the subsided in would be loose again. About the ITh of June I was attacked with the Influenza, exteral attacks of cold; and after taining the Syrup an

Washington Elixir.—A pure vegetable compound.—"Nature's God has secreted in the vegetable kincdom, safe, sure and speedy remedies for all diseases; to search for and discover these, is a part of man's allotted toil." This well known assertion of Dioscorides, one of the most profound of the ancient philosophers, has received another evidence of its truth and wisdom, in the discovery of the Washington Elixir, which, for its many virtues, may be called a God-send to the afficied! It is only necessary to say of it, that handreds of our best citizens can attest its almost magic power in thoroughly curing that most intolerable of all diseases—

FEVER AND AGUE.—The Washington Elixir is equaliyefficacious in the cure of Cholera Morbus, Bilious Cholic, Diarrhoxa and Dysentery, Worms and Dyspepsia. The Washington Elixir being composed entirely of Vegetable substances, is, of course, perfectly simple and harmless, though unequalled for the rapidity and vigor with which it compels the stomach to perform the peculiar functions required in effecting a radical cure of the above mentioned diseases—one dose having, not unfrequently, caused a permanent cure.

The Washington Elixir, in envelopes containing clear, simple and precise directions for its use, may be obtained of DR. E. M. GUION, 127 Bowery, cor. Grand-st.; and of R. E. Moss, cor. DR. McMUNN'S ELIXIR OF OPIUM.—This is a new chemical preparation, containing all the valuable medicinal qualities of Opium, in a natural state of combination, to the exclusion of its noxions principles. Full proportions of the greatest number of the noxions principles for proportions of the greatest number of the noxions principles of opium are contained in landanum, patengrie, black drop, denarcot zed landanum, extract of opium, and such other opicts preparations of this class hitherto made, and to which are justly stributed those disagreeable effects upon the stom ach and nargons system, which so frequently follow their operation and ministry their us-fulness.

This Elixir may be adopted in all those cases in which either Opium or its preparations are administered, with the containty of obtaining all their sedative, anodyne, and anti-spannodic effects, without any of those disagreeable consequences—of healache, nausea, vomiting, constipation, fremors, and a train of other unharpy symptoms, which are often as distressing as those which it was applied to remove.

OMETHING NEW IN GOTHAM—HouseKeepers Take Notice.—Walley's Patent Gothic Cooking Range. This important improvement, comprises every possible convenience that can be applied to 2 Cooking Range, and will recommend itself to every house-keeper for it's heanty, simplicity, convenience, durability and economy. It is made entirely of cast iron, (Gothic style) 21 inches high, filled up to a level surface; will do double the work of the ordinary tange with one half the quantity of finel, and can be set in any tire place by an ordinary mason in the space of 3 or 4 hours.— It has the following advantages over all others, viz: A large size Oven on the side and an extra portable Oven on the top of the other side, which can be made or not as convenient; it is so constructed that a part or the whole of the range can be used, and by the adoption of a false grate can be used with the kovatest economy insummer or winter; thus obviating the neoverity of burning a large quantity of fuel to do a small quantity of work. Also a new arrangement for heating a large quantity of work for Baths or Cuiliary purposes, together with a contrivance for heating a rooms which can be attached if desired. The inventor having spent a great deal of time and labor in perfecting this Range, can confidently recommend it

THOMPSON'S TRUSSES.—Office removed to 13 Beekman street. About 200 of the first physicians and surgeous of New York have given their decided preference to this Truss, as you can graduate the pressure from 1 to 50 pounds on the rupture without a back pad, which does so much injury to the spine. A fair trial being the best test of its superiority, it is applied and six days trial given, and if it does not retain the rupture, while performing every kind of exercise or coughing, and give perfect ease—in a word, if it is not satisfactory in every respect, the money is cheerfully raturned, and this is the only condition on which you should buy any truss. A permanent cure is easily effected, and warranted it directles are followed.

Offices are fitted up at No. 13 Beekman street, one door from Nassau, exclusively for applying this truss, and all are invited to come and try for themselves.
